Description

A rare and highly desirable Conway Stewart Series 100 Jumbo fountain pen, dating to circa 1954. Finished in classic black, this substantial British pen has a wonderfully balanced, commanding presence and represents one of the most sought-after larger models produced by Conway Stewart in the post-war period.

The Series 100 Jumbo is admired for its generous proportions, elegant streamlined profile, and unmistakable mid-century character. Its rich black finish gives the pen a restrained, timeless appearance, while its oversized format makes it especially satisfying in the hand. It is a fine example of the quality and design for which Conway Stewart became renowned among collectors and writers alike.

Carefully restored and offered in full working order, the pen is ready to be enjoyed as it was intended. It will appeal equally to the serious collector of vintage British writing instruments and to anyone looking for a distinctive, usable fountain pen with genuine period charm.

An increasingly difficult model to find, particularly in restored working condition, this Series 100 Jumbo is a handsome and practical addition to any collection.
