

1970s Czech hand blown glass sculpture

£495

Description

A 1970s Czech hand blown free form glass sculpture attributed to Karel Wuensch.

Karel Wuensch was a notable designer and craftsman, particularly known for his contributions to mid-20th century glass and ceramics. His work often reflected modernist principles, blending functionality with artistic flair. Wuensch's pieces are recognised for their clean lines, innovative designs, and are highly valued in the world of collectible decorative arts.