Description

An elegant 18ct white gold half eternity ring, finely set with a rhythmic arrangement of six round brilliant-cut diamonds and five tapered baguette-cut diamonds. The alternating cuts create a wonderfully balanced design: the brilliant diamonds offer lively sparkle and fire, while the baguette diamonds introduce crisp linear detail and a refined, architectural contrast.

The diamonds are arranged across the upper half of the band, allowing the ring to sit comfortably for everyday wear while retaining the presence and luminosity expected of a diamond eternity piece. Its polished white-gold setting provides a cool, contemporary backdrop that enhances the brightness of each stone and gives the design an effortlessly timeless character.

Beautiful worn alone, this ring also layers exceptionally well beside an engagement ring, wedding band, or other diamond bands. The alternating round and baguette cuts offer a more distinctive interpretation of the classic half eternity ring, making it equally suited as an anniversary gift, a meaningful milestone jewel, or an elegant addition to a personal jewellery collection.
